Legislation Report

Bill to Fix No Child Left Behind

In a major breakthrough on No Child Left Behind, the first Republican-initiated bill to amend the No Child Left Behind Act was introduced March 14 by Rep. Lee Terry (R-NE). The State and Local Education Flexibility Act (H.R. 1177) is consistent with many of the changes NEA and others have long sought.

Among other things, the legislation:

- Better aligns NCLB and the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act by allowing certain students with cognitive disabilities to be assessed in a manner consistent with their Individualized Education Plans.
- Ensures that local assessments are comparable across districts and are aligned with state content standards.
- Provides greater flexibility to help special education and rural teachers who teach multiple subjects meet NCLB highly qualified requirements.
- Exempts limited-English proficient students' test scores from Adequate Yearly Progress calculations during their first three years.
- Ask your Representative (Thaddeus McCotter) to cosponsor H.R. 1177.

Judi's Gems

Dear Gamma Alpha Sisters,

State Convention is coming in April. If you have not attended a convention, I highly recommend it! I was initiated in April and went to my first convention the next month! I haven't missed one since then. Delta Kappa Gamma has nearly 100,000 members worldwide. Being part of a vast honorary Society and meeting women educator's from all parts of our state who care about education and who promote women's causes makes me proud to be part of the Society. This year's State Convention will be held in Grand Rapids. There is lots to see and do in Gerald Ford country. Many informative workshops are being offered for needed CEU credit. The cost of CEU credit is only $10.

The Regional Conference will be held in Cleveland in August. Registration forms will be put on the Gamma Alpha website as soon as Jackie gets them. Both functions offer members the opportunity to get involved in Society functions beyond the chapter level. The cost of the convention and conference is small in comparison to what you receive. Please consider attending.

Remember to RSVP to Lynne April's meeting.

Minutes in a Minute

Minutes for February 24, 2005

Eighteen members were present for the February 24 meeting at Ford Career Technical Center. They were: Chris Smith, Jackie Smart, Judi Fisher, Lynne Elsesser, Esther Loskowske, Grace Morgan, Bonnie Franka, Joan Murray, Helen Mate, Pat Curd, Sherry Green, Marie Canzoneri, Amy Wainwright, Cindy Dietz, Colleen Retherford, Donna Colaianne, Sandy Becher, and Mary Jo Dreffs.

Tony's crew prepared a special meal for our last meeting at the Center: chicken Wellington, glazed carrots, rice, salad, rolls and a "swan" custard. It was delicious!

After dinner Amanda Quinn, Community Wellness Coordinator/ Health Educator, presented an informative power point entitled "What Every Woman Should Know About Heart Disease." She began with some myths about heart disease. She explained that heart disease is women's number 1 killer—a fact most women don't know. Amanda covered risk factors that can predict if a woman might develop heart disease. She also explained that some risk factors can be modified, such as smoking, cholesterol, obesity, and physical activity. Some risk factors like blood pressure and diabetes can be controlled. Amanda gave members a "Go Red for Women" pin that was shaped like a dress. This pin, and the color red, are symbols for women and heart disease. By wearing the pin, Amanda hopes this will raise awareness and empower women to take charge of their health, lower their risk of these often preventable diseases and live longer, stronger lives.

Next meeting is at Elliott Elementary on April 7, 4:30-6:30. We will be making stepping stones (prepay Grace $38 if interested Contact her at:

delkene@aol.com

Grace will give you some particulars when you contact her. We will have a no-cost to members craft presented by Nancy C. Service Projects will provide the snacks. Please try to attend. RSVP to Lynne. By April 1. No fooling!

Date to be determined for planning meeting for Executive Board, Committee Chairmen and interested members. This is the meeting where we share ideas for next year's programs.

Unleash Student Potential Through Motivation and Best Practices

or

“Put Your Foot in Your Hand and Go!”

Renaissance Cleveland Hotel, Ballroom B

Tuesday, August 2, 2005

9 am – 4 pm; Registration 8:15 – 8:45 am

Key Concepts that can be used from Pre-K through college:

Motivation: What is it? Can you “catch it?” Of COURSE you can! We’ll discuss key points of this critical element of successful classrooms and identify the importance of a positive teacher attitude and its impact on student performance.

Struggling Learners: Who are they? What are their characteristics? Most importantly, what key strategies can be used to reach them?

Communication Skills: Identify core skills in Reading and Writing that are critical to improving student performance and achievement. Receive “use-it-tomorrow” handouts for all skills!

Power Verbs: Learn how to incorporate critical “power verbs” into your every day teaching! Uncover how these words impact constructed response questions.

“Courtroom Capers”: Wrap up the day with a highly interactive team activity that addresses the critical test question, “From whose perspective is the story being told?”

Implementation Project: Receive materials and templates for implementing workshop strategies to receive full CEU credit.

5. When may requests for emergency assistance from the Wilma Adams fund be made?

The Time Traveler's Wife

By Audrey Niffenegger

This clever and inventive tale works on three levels: as an intriguing science fiction concept, a realistic character study and a touching love story. Henry De Tamble is a Chicago librarian with "Chrono Displacement" disorder; at random times, he suddenly disappears without warning and finds himself in the past or future, usually at a time or place of importance in his life. This leads to some wonderful paradoxes. From his point of view, he first met his wife, Clare, when he was 28 and she was 20. She ran up to him exclaiming that she'd known him all her life. He, however, had never seen her before. But when he reaches his 40s, already married to Clare, he suddenly finds himself time traveling to Clare's childhood and meeting her as a six-year-old. The book alternates between Henry and Clare's points of view, and so does the narration. Reed ably expresses the longing of the one always left behind, the frustrations of their unusual lifestyle, and above all, her overriding love for Henry. Likewise, Burns evokes the fear of a man who never knows where or when he'll turn up, and his gratitude at having Clare, whose love is his anchor. The expressive, evocative performances of both actors convey the protagonists' intense relationship, their personal quirks and their reminiscences, making this an excellent read.

Service Project Report

Esther the bag lady, Joan, Judi and Helen get the table ready for our activity bags for the Cystic Fibrosis patients at Mott Children's Hospital in Ann Arbor. We made 24 bags chocked full of fun non-educational games and toys that will help young patients while away boring treatment time. Judi delivered the bags to Mott the following week

THE LITERACY SITE

Remember the magic of your first book? Perhaps you were nestled in the arms of a parent, or sharing a giggle with a friend. Whatever your first memory of a book, books are a powerful tool; they stir the senses, inspire the imagination and spark a love of reading that can last a lifetime. But what of children who have no books? The Literacy Site gives you a way to share the magic of books and promote the love of reading among children who might otherwise never discover the joy of their first book. Your click on the red "Give Free Books" button at The Literacy Site generates books for children in need, funded by site sponsors and provided through our award winning charity partner, First Book. In the last three years, First Book has distributed over 20 million books to children in hundreds of communities. The number of books we put in children's hands depends on the number of visitors who click the "Give Free Books" button on The Literacy Site. Please click every day, and encourage friends and family members to do the same.
