December 13 Meeting Reminder

The meeting will be held at G. Subu’s Leather Bottle on Farmington Road, south of Eight Mile in Livonia. The Service Project will begin at 4:00 (note the time change) and we’ll have dinner after the project (5:00-5:30.) There is no room charge as long as the majority eat dinner at the restaurant.

There will be an Executive Board Meeting at Jackie’s home on January 10 at 4:30. Directions can be found in the calendar and minutes. There will be no January Newsletter. I’ll send out email reminders for the meeting.

Birthday Dinner & Sunshine Committees need to select a venue for the April 25 Birthday Dinner.

The Nature of Women

Famous authors, politicians, and poets have extensively written about 'woman.' Read these quotes and you’ll be singing, “I am woman, hear me roar!”

Nancy Reagan, Political Activist

A woman is like a tea bag. She only knows her strength when put in hot water.

Aristotle, Philosopher

If women didn't exist, all the money in the world would have no meaning.

James Thurber, American Humorist

I hate women because they always know where things are.

Malcolm de Chazal, Mauritian Author

A woman knows how to keep quiet when she is in the right, whereas a man, when he is in the right, will keep on talking.

Jules Michelet, French Historian

Woman is a miracle of divine contradictions.

Freya Stark, Author

The great and almost only comfort about being a woman is that one can always pretend to be more stupid than one is and no one is surprised.

Gloria Steinem, American Feminist

Someone once asked me why women don't gamble as much as men do and I gave the commonsensical reply that we don't have as much money. That was a true but incomplete answer. In fact, women's total instinct for gambling is satisfied by marriage.

Margaret Thatcher, Former British Prime Minister

In politics if you want anything said, ask a man. If you want anything done, ask a woman.

Dianne Feinstein, Politician

[on women's role in government] Toughness doesn't have to come in a pin-stripe suit.

Minutes in a Minute

November 29, 2006

The meeting was called to order by President Jackie Smart at 5:20 pm at G. Subu's Leather Bottle in Livonia. The first order of business was the initiation of two new members, Danielle Jopek and Marianne Reinhard. After a brief and lovely ceremony, the two new members were welcomed with a family style dinner and the opportunity to participate in the chapter's popular Christmas Auction. We had 25 Gamma Alpha members attend the auction. Four attendees were from Metro Council's Zeta Chapter and our members brought 17 guests to join in the fun. It was a lively evening of enthusiastic bidding on the many wonderful items donated by members. Although it was unplanned, the apparent theme for this year was SNOWMEN. Initial figures show that a total of $1,645.00 was collected. The proceeds will be used to fund three scholarships for college students in education programs. In addition to the auction, a 50/50 raffle was held. Carol Holland was the lucky recipient of $93.50. The Grant-in-Aid application is located under "Forms" on Gamma Alpha's website www.migammaalpha.org. Send the completed application forms to Mary Jo by March 31.

Our Service Project for the Wayne County Family Center will be on Wednesday, December 13 at 4:00. (Please note that we are starting earlier than usual.)

1. First we will decorate the stockings with iron on transfers.
2. Then we will fill the stockings with the items that members bring.
3. After the project we will have dinner and a brief meeting during dinner.

If you are unable to attend please give your donation to another member who is coming or drop off your items at Jackie's house. (Address/directions can be found in the January calendar.)

FYI:

- Esther has purchased 48 stockings for the project as her donation. The Stockings are approximately 15x6 inches. Small items are suggested to fill the stockings.
- Jackie has purchased 48-5x7 activity/coloring books and 48 snowman pencils.
- The Service Project fund will buy 48 boxes of crayons for the stockings and some fresh fruit for the Family Center.

The Service Project Committee suggests that several members team up to purchase items either from dollar stores or www.orientaltrading.com where you can buy small bulk items.

Suggested stuffers include:

Memo pads	Erasers	Small games
Glitter pens	Holiday candy	Gel pens
Stickers	Small craft projects	Markers
Card games	etc., etc., etc.

Please RSVP by December 11 to Jackie at jackie@mymartfamily.com so she can let the restaurant know how many to expect. The Service Project and Yearbook Committee chairmen thank you in advance for your donations for this project.

The auction/meeting ended at 8:20 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,

Carol A. Anderson, Recording Secretary

The Delta Kappa Bulletin is undergoing big changes because of actions taken at the 2006 International Convention. Due to high printing and mailing charges, two of the four issues will be posted online. This means a change in format to allow for easier reading on a computer or for printing a copy from that source.

International wants presidents to encourage members to read the Bulletin and submit articles relating to topics listed in each issue. Also, poetry and art suitable for the themes is always appreciated.

President's Message

Get Smart!

I promise, this is the last message about membership! Gamma Alpha's membership is currently at 33 members. Colleen Fisher, Laura Barrett, Pat Curd, Joan Lyon (health reasons), Bonnie Schweitzer (health reasons), and Linda Fullerton have resigned their membership from the Society. We initiated Danielle and Marianne last month. Not only do we need to seek out new members, but we need to discover how to keep them in the Society. Here are some more tips generated by the attendees at the workshop hosted by the International Membership Committee during the 2006 convention.

Where do you look for new members other than in mainstream schools?

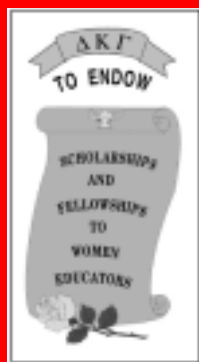

- Look for prospective members at professional meetings. Invite them to meetings, recommend them for membership in chapters in their own areas.
- Seek out daughters, daughter-in-laws, and nieces of members and relatives.
- Contact former members about reinstatement.
- Talk about philanthropic opportunities- helping others.
- Remember that substitute teachers are an important piece of the educational community.

How do you attract young professionals to meetings?

- Provide issue-oriented and project-oriented meetings.
- Emphasize scholarships and grants available from the Society.
- Emphasize that members are great mentors and supporters.
- Invite two or more at a time so they have a "buddy."
- Relevant programs are essential.

Seven Purposes of The Delta Kappa Gamma Society International

- Invite new young educators to present a program.
- Adopt a school– act as volunteers to educators there.
- Sponsor activities such as children’s storytelling, poetry competition– as a contact to teachers.
- Invite superintendent, school board members to discuss educational issues.
- Provide personal support programs for new teachers.
- Donate to a beginning teacher’s library– include Society information.

How do you respond to “I don’t have time”?

- TIME is important to everyone– make efficient use of time:
 - Use an agenda (I do this in each newsletter.)
 - Start on time (we do this.)
 - Be organized (I am OCD about this!)
 - Use parliamentary procedure to keep control of the meetings and discussion (Barb does this for us!)
- Make meetings important– provide a reason for attending. (Judi and the planning committee have provided interesting programs for us.)
- Don’t “penalize” members for missing meetings; just welcome them when they are able to attend.

Let’s have a good turnout for our Service Project this month. Bring goodies to stuff 48 stockings for children at the Family Center. See you at the Leather Bottle on December 13 at 4:00..

Good Reading

Whitethorn Woods

By Maeve Binchy

“Whitethorn Woods” is the latest novel of best selling Irish author Maeve Binchy. I confess to being an avid Maeve Binchy fan. I find her novels enjoyable with interesting and likeable characters .

The novel is based in the town of Rossmore in Ireland a once small town which has grown in size and has a large amount of traffic piling through the small narrow roads. The town has become divided over the possibility of a new bypass which would improve traffic congestion but may reduce the amount of visitors and therefore income for many of the residents. However the main concern over the bypass is that it will cut through the nearby Whitethorn Woods endangering the St. Ann’s Well where many make pilgrimage to pray and ask St Ann for husbands, children, health, etc.

“Whitethorn Woods” tells the stories of some of the people who have a connection to Rossmore or have visited St Ann’s Well. We begin the story with Father Brian Flynn who is the priest of the town and in the first chapter he sets the scene with the problem of the well and introduces us to a few of the characters.

Each chapter then introduces us to another two characters who have a connection with Rossmore. So the novel continues with each chapter telling a different story, connected usually only through the town but occasionally each others stories slightly interwoven with another.

Finally at the end Maeve Binchy returns to the story of Father Flynn and then ends the chapter by a brief update on the stories of some of the characters we have already come across and so showing how the various individual stories of the characters can be brought together.

Good Eating

Rachael Ray’s Carbonara

This recipe was from Good Housekeeping magazine. I made it and it is really easy to make and good– but it can be problems for your waistline if eaten in copious amounts.

Ingredients:

Salt and freshly ground black pepper to taste
1 pound pasta, such as spaghetti or rigatoni
1/4 cup extra virgin olive oil (enough to coat bottom of pan)
1/4 pound pancetta (Italian bacon), chopped
1 teaspoon red pepper flakes
5 to 6 cloves garlic, chopped
1/2 cup dry white wine
2 large egg yolks
Freshly grated Romano cheese
Handful of finely chopped fresh flat-leaf parsley, for garnish

Directions:

1. Put a large saucepot of water on to boil. Add a liberal amount of salt and the pasta. Cook to al dente, about 8 minutes.
2. Meanwhile, heat a large skillet over medium heat. Add the olive oil and pancetta. Brown pancetta for 2 minutes. Add red pepper flakes and garlic and cook 2 to 3 minutes more. Add wine and stir up all the pan drippings.
3. In a separate bowl, beat yolks, then add 1 large ladleful (about 1/2 cup) of the pasta cooking water. This tempers the eggs and keeps them from scrambling when added to the pasta.
4. Drain pasta well and add it directly to the skillet with pancetta and oil. Pour the egg mixture over the pasta. Toss rapidly to coat the pasta without cooking the egg. Remove pan from heat and add a big handful of cheese, lots of pepper, and a little salt. Continue to toss and turn the pasta until it soaks up egg mixture and thickens, 1 to 2 minutes. Garnish with parsley and extra grated Romano. Serves six.
