

Society Insignia

The official Membership Key, a golden ellipse, is depicted below. Across the center are the Greek letters ΔΚΓ. Above them a wreath of laurel leaves symbolizes the distinction, which those who wear this key have achieved. The cup below represents knowledge.

The purchase of the key pin is required of all members. It is to be worn to official functions and meetings of the Society at the local, state, and international levels. It is to be worn as a pin, not used on lapels, on a chain or bracelet, on collars or pocket flaps. When a member resigns or is dropped from the Society, she is expected to surrender her pin to the chapter.

The official coat-of-arms or crest is shown below. It consists of a red shield with a band of gold. Three Tudor roses on the band symbolize the society's ideals of friendship, loyalty, and helpfulness. The flaming lamp and open book signify scholarship and knowledge. The laurel sprays are traditional symbols of achievement.

The official flower of The Delta Kappa Gamma Society International is the red rose. Red and gold are the official colors.
